The Board of Directors of Geberit AG has appointed Martin Ziegler as the new Head of Operations and a member of the Group Executive Board. He will take up his role on 1 January 2018, replacing Michael Reinhard, who is set to retire having worked at Geberit for 13 years.

Michael Reinhard joined Geberit in 2005 as a member of the Group Executive Board with responsibility for the Group Division Sales. From 2006 until 2016, he was Head of Group Division Products. Since then, he has been Head of Group Division Operations. The Board of Directors would like to take this opportunity to express its sincere thanks to Michael Reinhard for his significant contribution to the further development of the Group over the past thirteen years, and wishes him all the best for the new chapter in his life.

The Board of Directors of Geberit AG has appointed Martin Ziegler as Head of Group Division Operations – which comprises the areas Purchasing, Logistics and Production – with effect from 1 January 2018. Martin Ziegler completed his master's degree in Industrial Engineering at ETH Zurich in 1994. He joined the Geberit Group in 1995, initially working as a project manager before later becoming Head of Quality for the Group and working as Managing Director of a production plant. From 2003, he headed up the Piping Systems product area at Group level. Since 2012, he has been responsible for the Group's 13 EFA (Extrusion, Forming, Assembly) production plants. The Board of Directors is convinced that, in Martin Ziegler, it has found a manager with an outstanding track record in the areas of supply chain management, product development and quality management to head up the Group Division Operations. His personality as well as his broad Geberit experience and many years at the company make him the ideal person to successfully develop the Operations Division further.
