

Geberit Year 2000 statement

Geberit Group entered the new Millennium without any problems

Geberit has completed a vigorous and comprehensive program to ensure that our data processing systems are ready and proven to be Year 2000 compliant. This program involved a seven step process that included inventory, impact analysis, compliance strategy, compliance planning, compliance execution, acceptance testing and implementation. Each step included extensive quality assurance.

All applications planned for use after December 31, 1999, have been tested and have no known Year 2000 issues including March 1, 2000. Business contingency plans have been completed in all critical process areas. Similar efforts for critical end user computing, technical infrastructure, and external alliances have also been completed.
