Market leader in the sanitary technology sector

The Geberit Group is the European market leader in sanitary technology with global orientation. The company has been numbered among the pioneers in the industry since 1874 and has continuously set new trends with its innovative system solutions in the fields of sanitary and piping systems. Geberit branded products are noted for high quality, longevity and easy installation. They offer solutions for every sanitary technology application.

Each year, the company provides training in Geberit systems and software tools for around 30 000 plumbers and planners, as well as for architects, at the company's 25 own information centers in Europe and overseas. In addition, another approximately 50 000 customers come into contact with Geberit know-how and products at external events organized by the local sales companies in collaboration with partners.

Sustainability and social responsibility are important considerations. They influence the strategic focus and form the basis for numerous decisions. The company is emphasizing the need for product development to take greater account of such global developments as the increasing shortage of water, the need for clean drinking water and the ensuring of high standards of hygiene. Geberit demonstrates that economic success, environmentally friendly actions and social balance are not conflicting concepts.

Thanks to the economic success of the last years, a very solid financial base could be created. The Group employs some 5,800 employees around the world and is headquartered in Rapperswil-Jona (CH). Geberit shares are listed on the Swiss Stock Exchange SIX in Zurich (CH) since 1999.

How we work

Business model and strategy

The success of Geberit is based on a focused and proven business model. We offer innovative and integrated solutions in the field of sanitary technology, focussing on water systems in buildings while maintaining a limited presence in heating, ventilation, gas and industrial applications.

The Geberit business model is supported by four strategic pillars:

Focus on sanitary technology	Commitment to innovation
Selective geographical expansion	Continuous optimization of business processes

Products

The product range was conceived both for new construction as well as for renovation and modernization. It includes six product lines in the product areas sanitary and piping systems. The sanitary systems product area comprises the four product lines installation systems, cisterns & mechanisms, faucets & flushing systems, as well as waste fittings & traps. The piping systems product area includes the two product lines building drainage systems and supply systems.
